

Bishop Will Celebrate Msgr. Dooling Requiem

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. David J. Dooling, 63, pastor emeritus of St. John's Church, Utica, died Wednesday in St. Joseph's Hospital, after a long illness.

Born in Syracuse, he was the son of James and Catherine Dooling. He attended Syracuse public elementary and high schools; Niagara University and Our Lady of the Angels Seminary. Msgr. Dooling was ordained June 6, 1906.

He was assigned as assistant pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Fulton, June 20, 1906. In 1915, he was appointed assistant pastor of St. Lucy's Church; in 1919, pastor of St. Malachy Church, Sherburne; in 1925, pastor of St. John's, Utica.

Msgr. Dooling received an honorary degree of doctor of laws in 1932 from Niagara University. He was appointed a domestic prelate with the title of right reverend monsignor Nov. 15, 1948 and protonotary apostolic March 22, 1956. Both appointments were made by Pope Pius XII.

On March 27, 1952, he was appointed dean of Madison and Oneida Counties. Upon his retirement on Aug. 6, 1962, he was appointed pastor emeritus of St. John's Church.

He is survived by a brother, Henry Dooling; three nephews, Robert of Endwell, Vincent and David Dooling; and three nieces, Mrs. Joseph Murphy, Mrs. Ronald Keegan and Mrs. John Weyeneth.

The office of the dead will be chanted at 8 p.m. today at St. John's Church, Utica.

The Most Rev. Walter A. Foery, bishop of the diocese of Syracuse, will celebrate a solemn pontifical requiem Mass at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. John's. Officers of the Mass will be Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert E. Dillon, archpriest; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward P. Buttner and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Angelo Strazzoni, deacons of honor; the Rev. James E. Nicholson, deacon of the Mass; the Rev. Francis L. Sammons, subdeacon of the Mass; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Richard A. Clark and the Rev. Joseph F. Kane, masters of ceremonies; the Rev. William J. Donovan and the Rev. Richard J. O'Neill, acolytes; the Rev. Joseph F. Sadowski, book bearer.

Also, the Rev. Laurence W. Kennedy, candle bearer; the Rev. John B. O'Brien, mitre bearer; the Rev. Ambrose M. Farrell, thurifer.

The eulogy will be preached by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel E. Lawler. The priest's choir will be under the direction of the Rev. William J. Shannon.

Burial will be in St. Agnes' Cemetery.

Pacifist To Discuss Civil Rights

Civil disobedience and other aspects of the civil rights movement will be discussed at the opening meeting of the Syracuse Peace Council at 8 p.m. today in Erwin Methodist Church.

The speaker will be David McReynolds, field secretary of the War Resisters League.

He will also speak at the state fall roundup of Peace Workers beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow at Eastwood Baptist Church.

That program, expected to bring some 100 peace workers from throughout the upstate area, will begin with two films: "The Hole," winner of the 1962 Academy Award for color cartoons, and "The Magician."

William Oates, a sophomore at Central Technical High School and one of the Madison Area Project students who toured Europe this summer, will discuss his camping trip through Russia.

Garry Thomas, returning from volunteer work with the American Friends Service Committee's international service program, will discuss his African experiences.

McReynolds, 32, has been active in the pacifist movement since 1939. He is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles, majoring in political science.

ference, conciliation or persuasion. It may refer the complaint to the state commission. That commission has the power of injunction and subpoena.

Hancock said the commission may receive and investigate complaints and also initiate its own investigations. It has broad powers in exploring problems involving human rights. It may conduct hearings that do not necessarily have to be public, administer oaths and take testimony.

He said, further, that the commission may recommend to the administration legislation which it considers pertinent to solving problems that deal with human rights and civil rights.

"Top Talent"

Commissioner of Urban Improvement George A. McCulloch voiced a need for "top talent" in the investigation of complaints; and welcomed the assistance of the commission.

He pointed out how urban renewal is the only program that gives consideration to the relocation of families being displaced. He said no other program has paid attention to this problem.

McCulloch referred to Director of Relocation William M. Chiles as being a militant fighter of long standing for better housing for Negro families.

It was agreed that complaints would be funneled to the commission through Deputy Commissioner of Urban Improvement Robert L. Haie Jr.

The commission also has power to look into situations where no complaints have been filed. The meeting adjourned without a definite date being set for the next session. This will depend on how soon a meeting can be set up with the state commission, a spokesman said.

Common Council President Roy Simmons, acting as mayor in the absence of Mayor William F. Walsh, will present a proclamation to Albert Orenstein, president of Syracuse's Louis Marshall Lodge of B'nai B'rith, at 11 a.m. today at the mayor's office.

Orenstein, also Common Council majority leader, will declare Oct. 13-20 as "B'nai B'rith Week" to honor the 120th anniversary of the Louis Marshall Lodge, first national service organization established in the United States.

The week will be climaxed by an anniversary breakfast held at the Jewish Community Center, Oct. 13. A Solomon Menter, chairman of the breakfast, and Sidney Manes of the Thomas Jefferson Onondaga Lodge, will witness today's proclamation.

ference, conciliation or persuasion. It may refer the complaint to the state commission. That commission has the power of injunction and subpoena.

Hancock said the commission may receive and investigate complaints and also initiate its own investigations. It has broad powers in exploring problems involving human rights. It may conduct hearings that do not necessarily have to be public, administer oaths and take testimony.

He said, further, that the commission may recommend to the administration legislation which it considers pertinent to solving problems that deal with human rights and civil rights.

"Top Talent"

Commissioner of Urban Improvement George A. McCulloch voiced a need for "top talent" in the investigation of complaints; and welcomed the assistance of the commission.

He pointed out how urban renewal is the only program that gives consideration to the relocation of families being displaced. He said no other program has paid attention to this problem.
